A One Day National level Colloquium on
HUMAN RIGHTS AWARENESS AND DUTIES OF RURAL DEVELOPMENT FUNCTIONARIES

(Under the Aegis of UGC XII Plan General Development Assistance for 2016-17)

(25th JANUARY 2017)

Scope of the Colloquium

Rural people as a whole have lower enjoyment of human rights than many urban people. There is an urgent need to make all rural people to know about the human rights through imparting rural development education in villages. It is very important duty of everybody to realize the values of human rights in villages, where majority of the population live. Because, without such types of assistance and lack of awareness on human rights, there will be many number of social evils like ill-treatment, farmers' suicides and women harassment and so on. In order to overcome these very notorious issues in Indian Villages, human rights and rural development education play a crucial role in securing and defending rural mass. The objective of the colloquium is to discuss various issues related to human rights through rural development education and to document the generated ideas, innovations and novelty in the process of rural development education for achieving 100 percent human rights in rural areas.
